Medicare & Compliance Changes

This year new revisions are proposed that may impact your coding and documentation framework, including E/M code updates from the AMA to reduce administrative burdens. This course will help you make informed decisions and guide your practice in a positive direction.

The expiration of the 3% PFS increase means providers can expect decreased reimbursement in 2023. Possible reweighting of MEI cost shares could also change to payments among PFS services. Other proposals in review involve split or shared E/M visits and new HCPCS codes and valuation for chronic pain management. Medicare telehealth services will likely undergo process transitions at the end of the PHE.

E/M changes could include new descriptor times, revised interpretive guidelines for levels of MDM, and choice of MDM or Time to select code level. The AMA has also proposed revisions to the coding and documentation framework.

New and revised CPT code descriptors may be required to determine the code level for medically appropriate history and exam.

CPT Code Update

Attend this intermediate-level program to learn the details on CPT® code changes effective January 1, 2023. Find out how changes to the procedural codes and guidelines will impact billing in your specialty. This program will help you reduce denials and provide you with a head start on keeping provider reimbursement on track in the new year.

Class highlights:

- Review the newest revisions to the CPT code set
- Instructor will explain what impact the codes may have on your documentation and claims
- Enhance your understanding of the codes, guidelines and corresponding procedures.

Digital course materials are included for future reference. Registrants will receive an email with a link to download the materials approximately 2 days before the training event. A CPT code set manual is not required to attend this course but will be helpful to comprehend the context of the code changes.
